VS In the list received from the Chief Court, it is seen that four munsiffs have not passed both Revenue and Registration Tests and Six munsiffs, only the Registration Test. All of these had been confirmed prior to the publication of the Examination Rules on the 12th December 1906 which made the Registration Test a Compulsory one for munsiffship. The Revenue Test has however been a necessary Qualification Since 1885. Mr. B. Ranga Iyengar, who has been acting as Munsiff has not yet passed the Registration Examination. Submd for orders.

14.11.08.

14/11/08 From the list it is seen that the following officers have not passed the Revenue & Regn. Exams

The Regn exams was instituted as a test only in Dec 06 & officers appd. permanently before that date need not be compelled to pass the test, but unless they pass it they would not be eligible to be appointed as asst Comrs. This may perhaps be pointed out in an order

28 Several munsiffs have been confirmed though they have not passed the Rev. exams. It is now too late to insist on their passing the exams but it may be pointed out that unless they pass the exam they will not be eligible for appointment as Asst Commrs.

29 In the case of men hereafter appointed as munsiffs they should be confirmed only after they have fully qualified by passing all the tests.

30 I agree with the modification that, since the Revenue test has been compulsory since 1905, Munsiffs appointed after that year should not be eligible for Sub promotion (not being promotion to the Asst Comr's grade) unless they pass the same at the earliest opportunity.
